KEEP IN STEP.

"Those who walk together must keep in step."

Aye! the world keeps moving forward
Like an army marching by;
Heard ye not that heavy footfall
That resounded to the sky?
Some bold spirits bear the banner—
Souls of sweetness chant the song—
Lips of energy and fervor
Make the timid-hearted strong!
Like brave soldiers we march forward:
If you linger or turn back
You must look to get a jostling
While you stand upon the track.
Keep in step!

My good neighbor, Master Standstill,
Gazes on it as it goes;
Not quite sure but he is dreaming
In his afternoon's repose!
"Nothing good," he says, "can issue
From this endless moving on,
Ancient laws and institutions
Are decaying or are gone:
We are rushing on to ruin
With our mad, newfangled ways."
While he speaks, a thousand voices
As the heart of one man say—
Keep in step!

Gentle neighbor will you join us,
Or return to "good, old ways?"
Take again the fig-leaf apron
Of old Adam's ancient days,
Or become a hardy Briton—
Beard the lion in his lair,
And lie down to dainty slumber
Wrapp'd in skin of shaggy bear,
Rear the hut amid the forest,
Skim the wave in the light canoe?
Ah! I see you do not like it.
Then, if these "old ways" won't do.
Keep in step!

Be assured, good Mr. Standstill,
All-wise Providence designed
Aspiration and progression
For the yearning human mind;
Generations left their blessings
In the relics of their skill;
Generations yet are longing
For greater glory still;
And the spirits of our forefathers
Are not jealous of our deed.
We but follow where they beckon,
We but go where they do lead!
Keep in step!

One detachment of our army
May encamp upon the hill,
While another in the valley
May enjoy its own sweet will,
This may answer to one watch-word,
That may echo to another;
But in unity and concord
They discern that each is brother!
Breast to breast they're marching onward
In a good, now peaceful way.
You'll be jostled if you hinder.
So don't offer let or stay—
Keep in step.

—LONDON PAPER.

VERACITY A GOOD THING.

Truth is a good thing for boys playing at marbles, and equally good for adult boys who play at base ball. It is good for the merchant, the tradesman, the mechanic, the politician, the statesman, the lawyer, the physician, the minister; in a word, a good thing to be practised by every intelligent creature blest with reasoning faculties and the use of language. A strict adherence to the simple truth, under all circumstances, is a trait of character worthy of all admiration.

We are about to speak of truth in the abstract (i. e., in contradistinction to error or perversion of standard principles), taking the word in its ordinary significance; as a simple affirmation of acts and circumstances just as they occur, without any equivocation, dissimulation, amendment thereto or reduction therefrom.

What a blessed thing it would be for the world, if only the practical admonition of the Great Teacher in relation to this subject was stringently regarded:—"Let your yea be yea, and your nay be nay." If practised by mankind universally how many severed friendships would remain unbroken! how much domestic happiness unalloyed by the tongue of slander! how much confidence by hypocrisy and dishonesty!

Lying is truly a disgusting vice, and emanates from Satan, for he is the father of lies; yet it is a still more humiliating fact to declare that it does not belong exclusively to the vulgar and profane, but to all classes of society. We shall not attempt to define or arrange them. There are genteel fibs, white stories, gross falsehoods, palpable slanders, poisonous insinuations, and lies of the most vituperative malignity. Nor shall we moralize upon the incipient cause of this evil, briefly alleging that we believe much is owing to imperfect parental training—a neglect among the first lessons of infancy to teach the young and tender mind the hidious nature of falsehood and deceit.

Perhaps in all the catalogue of human failings, there is none more common that a natural disposition to exaggerate or dissemble. Mankind, generally, do not think enough of their words; may we not with safety say that many seem to ignor the Saviour's teaching altogether? "But I say unto you, that every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment. "For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned."—Matt., xii, 36.

The influence of words is much greater, therefore, than many imagine. We all feel more powerfully our own thoughts, after expressing them in words, than before. In 2d Timothy, ii, 17, 18, Paul uses this language:—"And their words will eat as doth a canker, of whom is Hymeneus and Philetus, who, concerning the truth, have erred," etc. The power of words is here compared to a cancer or gangrene, which is, in most cases, known to be incurable under the most gifted medical skill.

And yet the world is full of such as Hymeneus and Philetus, and thousands of intriguing speculators, verily as guilty as were Ananias and Sapphira; so that falsehood is rife and lying so prevalent that really very many only speak the truth by accident; their natural inclination of heart being to speak that which is either false or calculated to deceive.

Let us establish these statements by illustrations from every day life. The mother addresses her little one, "Take this medicine, my dear, it is very nice and sweet." The child swallows the the dose with implicit confidence, and finds out at once, by its nauseous taste, that it has been deceived by a story. A lady enters a respectable store to purchase dry goods, and hears such declarations as these:—"Oh no! I assure you, those goods will never fade or lose their lustre; it is impossible under any circumstances; besides, I am really giving the goods away far below cost, merely to close out this stock." Here are several falsehoods, uttered with impunity, in the same breath. Two ladies are promenading a thronged street, and accidentally meet with their mutual friend Mrs. A. The two unite in manifesting the most cordial yet insincere expressions of friendship; and after repeatedly inquiring about health, and no small share of usual gossip, one of the Mrs. "Oh, Mrs. A., how much admired your beautiful velvet cloak! I was charmed with great taste;" and exclaimed the same more carefully, could dearly love to have it." This, added to many personal flattery, and the friendly "Good-by" to Mrs. A. have they resumed their way, when remarks to the other in the most disparaging manner, looking back upon Mrs. A. as she is receding from view, you ever see anything so native as that cloak?" Then, a hearty and deceitful laugh, claims:—"Why, how verdant she was to accept our compliments! Surely, she must have got that cloak at some pawnbroker's; or scared it up from some second-hand establishment." So again, insincerity, deceit, falsehood are exhibited, and held up at a premium.

Mrs. B. calls at the dwelling of Mrs. C., on behalf of the Dorcas Society of the church. "I am so delighted to see you," says Mr. C., as her visitor enters the parlor; "I have been so long expecting you to make me a visit. How is the family? etc. Of course you will stay and take of your things." Mrs. B. courteously thanks her, and presently states the ostensible object of her call, and requesting from Mrs. C., if convenient, her annual subscription of one dollar. "How is the Dorcas Society prospering?" tenderly inquires Mrs. C. But without waiting for a reply, she continues. "Oh, how glad I should be to make it a hundred times as much! Such an excellent object deserves ready sympathy and willing assistance." Then amid considerable small talk, Mrs. C. hands over the one dollar, and in a little while exchanges a friendly adieu. Presently the worthy Christian missionary, Mrs. B., is on her errand of love and duty; seeking, without any earthly reward, to collect means to clothe and comfort the neglected and destitute poor. "Dear me, I'm glad that such a bore is gone," exclaimed Mrs. C., as she entered her sitting-room. The several members of her family were awe stricken at the remark, and asked, "Why, what do you mean?"

"I'll tell you, I mean just what Mrs. B. appeared so solemn, so feelingly some of the ... upon the Dorcas, that ... was utterly absorbed with ... It was Dorcas, Dorcas, Dorcas, else. So I hated to appear ... therefore to get clear of ... her a dollar, and only hope ... will keep aloof from my premises ... after. Instead of running about ... money, Mrs. B. had better stay ... and mend stockings, or look ... her household affairs." Inference: there is a luxury in doing good, but we can't see the luxury in having one's motives impugned, and being lustily back bitten!

Recently, a union missionary meeting was called in one of our city churches. Owing to the inclemency of the weather, or other minor causes, the meeting was a failure. There was but a "beggarly account of empty benches." A chilly atmosphere prevails within the house; two or three speeches the dropping of a few nickles, and the gentler falling of a few three cent notes, seemed to welcome the benediction. Our surprise was great, soon after to observe in a religious paper the pastor's account of this great and enthusiastic assemblage. His fulsome description we shall not quote. A single sentence or two was:—"Great demonstration!" "Forward! the whole line!" "The platform crowded with ministers, who had come in to offer their congratulations and prayers!" Now the fact is simply told by stating that six clergymen "crowded" the large platform; and, among others, we felt sorry that for so good a cause the attendance was so exceedingly small. What, then, is the advantage of such exaggerated, untruthful statements? We have heard it said that the eyes of the noble horse, under the peculiar excitement of the race, intensely magnify; and surely something of this kind, or an overdose of belladonna, must have affected this clergyman. Simple truth is cheap, and costs no more breath to recite nor effort of the hand to record than bombastic statements. These the cause of Religion and the Church do not need. Let Baron Munchausen claim such things and own that style as peculiarly his own. Perhaps we are scarcely charitable enough; for the preacher alluded to might have been dreaming, as a minister we heard of, who was on a visit at the house of a friend, and after preaching in the evening had quietly retired to rest. In the night the preacher was heard making an unusual loud talking noise, sufficient to arouse the neighborhood. He was dreaming, during the delivery of a sermon, and in the morning recited his exploit. He said that he thought his text was:—"The field is the world," and that he imagined the world was in a field, and that immediately before him; and that his immense audience inspired his imagination and gave him such fluency that he bawled out like a bear, and roared out like a rhinoceros, but, alas, just before he awoke, he discovered that his immense congregation was in the field truly, but composed entirely of—corn-stalk!

We well remember, a few years ago, a minister who was accustomed to illustrate a point in his sermons by speaking, at intervals, of a particular room-mate in college. He was in the habit of handling this poor fellow as one does the kaleidoscope, turning him over frequently, and exibiting him in different colors. Once, this favorite classmate became intractable, and went upon a whale ship. He returned, and being a good scholar, turned out to be a notable forger; then he read law, and became dissipated, until he died in a fit of mania-a-potu. Again, he reformed, and was elected Associate Judge of the Court; subsequent, discourged with the vicissitudes of life, in a fit of despondency he threw himself upon the railroad track, in full view of an approaching locomotive, and, sad to relate, was instantly killed; and finally, after all this, this remarkable classmate, spell-bound with covetousness, took the steamer alive, and went to the Pacific shores in search of gold! The story was told so often, and pictured so vividly to the hearers, that the poor college classmate received many gracious tears, even though thrice buried. We must not be understood as questioning the truthfulness of the incident, but trust that by this time he is a thoroughly reformed man.

We learn from our subject that veracity is not always mere accuracy. There is a significant expression:—"Truth in the inward parts;" which implies truth in the life, in the soul; not merely on the lips or in the actions; but truth enshrined within the heart, and shining forth in every duty and from every expression of the lips. Speech is a noble gift, bestowed for wise and useful purposes, but how greatly is it perverted! What a miserable sham, an unreal thing, the life of many a one is! witnessing continually in behalf of equivocation and falsehood—prevarication and deceit. And it is lamentable, moreover, to think that a man may continue to sin long after he is in his grave. His character for untruthfulness and error may long live after him, and propagate their evil fruits until the judgment.

Let us, then, guard our words, and watch over our own thoughts, even yet unexpressed. Let us say with David:—"I will take heed to my ways that I sin not with my tongue; I will keep my mouth with a bridle."—Ps. xxxix. 1.

INFLUENCE OF THE SMILE IN GIVING BEAUTY OF EXPRESSION.—A beautiful smile to the female countenance what the sun-beam is to the landscape. It embelishes an inferior face, and redeems an ugly one. A smile, however, should not become habitual, or insipidity is this result; nor should the mouth break into a smile on one side, the other remaining passive and unmoved, for this imparts an air of deceit and grotesqueness to the face. A disagreeable smile distorts the lines of beauty, and is more repulsive than a frown. There are many kinds of smiles, each having a distinctive character—some announces goodness and sweetness—others bettay sarcasm, bitterness and and pride—some soften their countenance by their languishing tenderness—others brighten it by their brilliant and spiritual vivacity. Gazing and poring before a mirror cannot aid in acquiring beautiful smiles half so well as to turn the gaze inward, to watch that the heart keeps unsullied from the reflection of evil and its illuminated and beautiful by all sweet thoughts.

CATS.—Some practical joker in Cincinnati advertised in one of the city papers that a certain merchant—giving his name and place of business—was in want of a cat, and that for a good one, ten dollars would be paid. The morning the store was literally besieged by urchins with their arms full of cats—black cats, white cats, speckled cats, Thomas cats, ancient cats, juvenile cats, and every urchin demanding his ten dollars. Later in the day a distressed looking gentleman, covered with cats' hairs, presented himself at the office of the advertising paper, and with extreme indignation announced that he never owned a cat, never wanted a cat and devoutly hoped never again to see a cat. The publishers sympathized, and declared it was a cats-astrophe.

☞The pastor of a certain church not a thousand miles from this place, a few Sabbaths ago, when about to baptize a child, reproved the flock in the following fashion—"My dear people, I feel that you are neglecting parental duties, as this is only the second child presented for baptism during my pastoral connexion with the church."

☞A philosopher thinks the best way for water drinkers to make their beverage popular is to get up an impression that it is sinful to drink it. An immense amount of pleasure would thus be given to a large class of people who only drink whiskey, rum, gin, etc., now because it is not proper to do so.

☞"His pill-grimage is over," as the druglst's widow said when she ordered an epitaph for his tombstone.

Report of Col. James Worrall, C. E.,

On the Passage of Fish in the Susquehana and its Tributaries.

HARRISBURG, Dec. 18, 1867.

SIR:—Having been re-appointed by your Excellency to the position of Commissioner, under the act of March 30, 1866, relating to the passage of fish in the Susquehanna and its tributaries, I have the honor to submit the following

REPORT:

The passage for fish constructed in the Columbia dam, and described in my last report, I have every reason to believe is a success.

It is notorious that shad have been caught of the very finest quality and in respectable numbers as high above the Columbia dam as Newport, on the Juniata.

The numbers actually taken, during the past season, between Columbia and the Juniata, are variously estimated at from ten to fifteen or eighteen thousand, by men in whom full reliance can be placed.

In my last year's report to Governor Curtin, I stated that the various companies owning the lower dams on the Susquehanna and its tributaries, were duly notified, according to law, of what was required of them, under the act, and that no company had responded except the Susquehanna Canal Co., who had complied with the act to my satisfaction, by the construction of the designated weir.

I laid information strictly in accordance with the act against the Pennsylvania railroad company, who at that time owned the next structures which barried the access of the shad to the upper river.

This information was duly reported to the District Attorney of Dauphin county, but was not acted upon last year, and thus one season has been lost in the progress of "reconstruction."

This year, however true bills have been found, both against the Pennsylvania R. R. company, the company owning the dams last year, and the Pennsylvania canal company, the party owning them at this time, and there is every reason to believe that the question of the constitutionality of the law will very soon be settled in the courts.

Should this question be put at rest so that this corporation shall be compelled under the law to erect the weirs, I have not any doubt but what shad will make their appearance once more above Duncan's Island in the Susquehanna—and if this first company constructs, the others who were duly notified as stated in my last years report namely the North and West Branch canal companies and the Wyoming Valley canal company must also comply or otherwise stand a law suit which it is not supposed that they will do with the record against them.

The whole matter then depends upon the result of this suit. If the law now in existence be inadequate to produce the desired result, it will be for the Logislature to consider the matter further.

The people on the Susquehanna, between Columbia and Duncan's Island, and up the Juniatta, as far as Newport, have had a taste of fish; and those living above those points being informed that with an expenditure of a few thonsand dollars at each dam, this delicious luxury can be brought again to their doors, it will not be at all surprising if they shoul feel exceedingly anxious that a law should be passed benefitting them in the same way.

Large numbers of the spawned fry of the shad have been observed at various points making their way down the river during the fall and the bodies of the old fish—those that had fulfiled their mission in spawning—were also seen at various points, in large numbers, late in the season, floating down with the current.

I should not be surprised, therefore, if the catch in the coming season would double or treble the number taken during the season last past, for it is well known instinct of this branch of the finny tribe that they return unerringly to the localities in which they were spawned, unless prevented by some insurmountable obstacle interposed during their absence.

The erection of fish dams in the river, however, will tend very materially to diminish this desirable result, and public opinion in Dauphin, Cumberland and Perry counties is so strong against these devices that I believe but a single one was erected along the borders of these counties this year, and one was promptly suppressed by law.

Having heard, however, that some of those nuisances were about to be, or had been erected along the river near or to Columbia, I caused the citizens to be requested to lodge information against them.

No such information has been lodged, and I have not been able to ascertain to what extent the downward passage of the spawn has been interupted in the localities spoken of. The main dams in the river are scarcely a greater obstruction to the passage of shad than these fish traps—they catch the spawn in their meshes, and there the little creatures die by the thousand.

It is in the hands of the people to remedy this crying evil. The laws against the erection of such structures are sufficiently stringent to put a stop to them altogether, but unless those interested will lodge information, the system will continue, and although the most efficient weirs shall be made in the large dams for the passage of fish up the stream unless the way for the spawn to get down be left open no increase in the catch from year to year can be expected.

There is no State, county or township officer whose business it is specially to watch this infraction of the law, and I would suggest that it be the duty of some such official in the counties bordering upon the river to have an eye upon it—notifying all persons against putting up structures, and that if they should still persist in doing so they will be proceeded against in the most summary manner.

A little active interest taken by the public in this regard is all that is necessary, and it cannot be many years until the shad shall be fully reinstated in the Susquehanna and its tributaries for hundreds of miles.

I am, sir, very respectfully,
Your obedient servant.
JAS. WORRALL, C. E.,
Commissioner, &c.

His Excellency
JOHN W. GEARY,
Governor of Pennsylvania.

Suffering in the South.

A Mississippi correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial writes:—

"So much is said about the suffering in the South, that it is proper to define the character and extent of the prostration now prevailing in these once opulent States. If there is any actual starvation, present or impending, I have yet to see it. The cotton crop was a failure last season, and the greatest decline in the staple a most stunning and unexpected blow to both planters and factors. The cotton crop failed not only in one section but in all. I have conversed with planters from Arkansas, Texas, Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi, and Louisiana—all tell the same story—a glorious promise in June, and a grievous blight in September. To enable them to plant, the procured heavy advances of money and material, and contracted with field hands at $15 or $20 per month. Gen. Pillow, for instance, obtained $100,000 in cash from one house in New Orleans, the payment of which he, in common with all, is unable to meet.—With a great decline in production and in price, it is not difficult to comprehend that when settling day came nobody was solvent.

"Extreme depression fell at once on all the Southern cities, and the planters, having exhausted their credit, wonder where they can obtain indulgences next spring to enable them to try again. I heard one planter say that his crop cost $12,000 and sold for $10,000. He plumes himself that he escaped so much more lightly than his neighbors. Cotton is in dis-favor. Corn and potatoes grow well here, and hogs could be raised, but it is complained, with unquestionable truth, truth, that the floating negroes kill off all the stock they can lay their hands on.—One man in Jackson lost a hundred hogs in three nights. Even milch cows vanish into the air (or into Ethiopian tissue), and never horn, hide, nor hair is seen of them evermore. One of the most prominent business corners in Jackson is vacant. Last year it rented for $2500, now it goes begging for $1000. No contracts for negro labor are being made. The planters offer only from five to seven dollars per month; when the negroes, accustomed to fifteen and twenty dollars will not listen to. Bankruptcy is written in every ledger. The few who can pay their debts have taken the infection, and shake their heads mechanically when a bill is presented for ridiculous payment. Hundreds of merchants in New Orleans, Memphis, St. Louis, and Louisville are as regardless now of protest as once they were jealous of their credit. You can nowhere meet a group of Southerners in conversation without finding 'the hard times' rising up as the great and invincible topic—the ogre that will not be exorcised.

"'I shall move to a free State,' said one in my hearing; sell my land for half I gave for it ten years ago, and try my luck again.'

"'Isn't this a free State?' somebody queried.

"'Too d—d free,' growled the first speaker. 'I want to spend the rest of my days where I shall never see another nigger. A month ago I went down to call up my 55 head of hogs.—My family won't starve this winter, anyhow, thought I, as I yelled "sue boy." But not a d—d hog could be found, and, for that matter, not a bristle. My neighbors are selling $200 mules for $62 50, and they're wise; after the niggers eat all the hogs they will take to mule meat. Ho for Missouri! is my watchword.'

"The fact is equally sure and deplorable that the agriculture of the South is as badly muddled as its politics. The planters do not know what sort of crop to try, and this problem solved, they have not the money or credit to farm on anything like an adequate scale. Capitalists of the patient kind, in the present state of things, can buy some of the best lands in the South for one-fifth their value. Northerners who fancy the culture of cotton never had as good an opportunity as now to try the experiment. Labor is much lower than ever before since emancipation, and plantations are a drug in the market. The man who has the most of them and the biggest, is practically little better off than if he had built a railroad across Sahara and taken a land grant for pay."

☞Nothing like love and hunger to drive a man or make him happy. Next to a feast upon a seventeen year old pair of sweet lips under grape vine by moonlight, is a fork upon a plate of cold beans after fishing for suckers all day. The one fills the poetic heart and the other an empty stomach.

OUR CANDIDATES:

FOR PRESIDENT,

U. S. GRANT.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

A. G. CURTIN.

☞Messrs. McIntyre and Shugert of the Senate, and Wharton and Miller of the House will please accept thanks for favors received.

☞The developments in the Shugart contested election case before the Senate at Harrisburg, are said to be rich. Many facts are being brought to light that will astonish the honest people. When the committee reports we will publish the most important evidence.

☞At the recent meeting of the Republican State Committee in Ohio, the name of General Grant, when presented as a candidate for the Presidency, was received with marked and emphatic enthusiasm, and nobody demanded or desired any specific pledges or committals from him on the measures pending before Congress and the country.

☞There does not appear to be any opposition in the Republican party to the re-election of Auditor General Hartranft and Surveyor General Campbell. They have both made excellent and popular officers. For Surveyor General on the Democratic ticket, Jacob Cresswell, Esq., of this county, has been named, and we suppose he will have considerable strength in the State Convention.

True.—The Mt. Union Herald says "The only Republican organ in the county,' don't recognize The Globe as being in the ring, although it talked Grant long before the 'organ' did." A reference to the files of both journals will prove the truth of this assertion. Had we not talked Grant we doubt whether the Journal & American would have his name up to-day. Curtin was a move slightly previous to the understanding of the editors of that journal.

☞We publish on our first page the report of Col. James Worrall, on the passage of fish in the Susquehanna and its tributaries. This is a report which should be of interest to our citizens and all who live near the stream. If it is the desire that we should have shad and salmon, we can only get them more readily by allowing them free passage up the river. This can be done if measures are taken in accordance with the wishes of Col. Worrall, as embodied in his report.

☞We hope we may not be charged with seeking the position of an "organ." We only claim the right to support whom we please. But if by supporting Grant and Curtin, we lead the Journal & American, it is because that paper is slow in coming up to the demands of its party. If the Journal & American wishes to be considered the "organ" of its party it should not hesitate to support the candidates of its party. We support them because they are our choice and the choice of the party.

☞A reconstruction of the Southern States must exist before we can expect prosperity to return to the people of those States. Any kind of a reconstruction will be better than none at all. Once reconstructed, and government machinery working, evils can be removed and improvements made. The loyal people who crushed the rebellion claim the right to dictate what shall be the rights in future of a people who refused to live under our Constitution and laws. Although many Union men object to the extreme radicalism of Congress, the law-making power, none are willing to exchange it for a Democracy represented by the Vallandighams, the Pendletons, and Brick Pomroys, who would most certainly turn up with a controlling influence in the legislation of Congress. The war record of Union men can never be made to harmonize with the "peace Democracy."

Grant and Johnson.

A lengthy correspondence between the President and Gen. Grant on the Stanton difficulty has in part been published. We will be able to publish it in full next week. The President asserts that Grant promised to return him the War Office in time for the appointment of a successor to Mr. Stanton, and in this is sustained by members of the Cabinet, who say that such an agreement was made by General Grant, in their presence. General Grant as positively asserts that he never made any agreement of the kind, and that the President and the Cabinet grossly misrepresent his position. Each party virtually gives the other the lie direct.

The correspondence brings General Grant squarely before the people as the only candidate in opposition to the Democracy, and the record he has made with the sword, and the record he is now making with his pen will be for the people to examine and pass an opinion upon at the ballot box.

Political Items.

Twenty-nine papers of Ohio have declared for Grant and ten for Chase.

The Republican party of Mifflin Co. have adopted the Crawford County system in the selection of candidates.

☞Wayne county instructs her delegates to the State Convention for Grant and Curtin.

The Republican party of Beaver Co. in convention on the 8th, declared in favor of Grant and Curtin.

A committee of Mr. Pendleton's friends has been established in Washington to urge his nomination as Democratic candidate for the Presidency.

A grand mass meeting in favor of General Grant, is announced to take place at Union Square, New York, on the 22d inst. A number of leading Republicans throughout the country have been invited to deliver speeches.

Negro Suffrage.—"As a party, we cannot afford to be defeated for the black man. We know there are thousands of honest Republicans who can not and will not endorse it. Why should we drive these men from our organization.—Harrisburg State Guard

An article appeared in a late number of the New York World, the leading Democratic journal, which censures Vallandigham for the part which he took in the eighth Congressional district election in Ohio. It is high time the Democratic journals should turn their attention to the Radicals in their own party, for they have plenty of them.

The Democratic State Convention will be held in Harrisburg, on Wednesday, March 4, and the Republican State Convention will assemble in Philadelphia one week later, Wednesday, March 11th. The duty of the Republican Convention will be to nominate candidates for Surveyor and Auditor General, choose the State electoral ticket and four delegates at large to represent Pennsylvania in the National Convention at Chicago. The Democratic Convention will nominate candidates for Auditor and Surveyor General, and select delegates to attend the National Convention for the nomination of a Presidential ticket.

Farm Lands North and South.—The Atlanta Opinion, in a late article on the price of lands in Georgia, has the following remarks:—

"We have received quite a number of letters from parties North, making inquiries relative to the price of land in Georgia. Such inquiries are encouraging, as they are easily answered. If there be parties in the North wishing to settle in Georgia, they can buy lands with the money almost at their own price. There are thousands of acres for sale within twenty miles of this city that can be purchased, for cash, at from two and a half to ten dollars per acre, according to quality, location, etc. Now is the time to buy. In five years from this time (should the State be restored to the rights and privileges of the Union, and placed under civil government) the same lands will meet ready sale at from fifteen to fifty dollars per acre. To farmers with small cash capital, in search of homes, we know of no better opening in the United States, or in any of the Territories, equal to that in the northern and middle portions of this State. There never was a people so destitute of money as the planters, land owners, and traders of Georgia. They are all in debt; they must have money, consequently, there is no country on earth where good improved lands can be bought so cheap. Let all come, and see for themselves."

Buying homes cheap is one thing—living in peace and in safety is another.

The Impeachment Question Again.

A special dispatch from Washington to the Pittsburg Commercial, dated the 8th says:—

"The Reconstruction Committee met to day and opened their session with important proceedings. The Johnson-Grant correspondence being under consideration, Thad. Stevens declared that the President had clearly violated the Civil Tenure law by ordering General Grant to disobey Secretary Stanton, and that he ought to be impeached at once. Other members acquiesced. The sub-committee appointed on Thursday to examine the law and the facts, were not able to report, but it being apparent that their investigations would prove important, it was decided to have the political minority represented, and so Mr. Beck, Democrat of Kentucky, was added to the sub-committee. A summons was issued for General Grant to appear and testify. He is regarded as the most important witness, and it is understood that he has facts in his possession, other than those publicly stated in his letters to the President, which if testified to, may impel the committee to report in favor of impeaching Mr. Johnson. General Grant, however, did not appear in time, and the committee proceeded to take the evidence of J. B. Stillson, correspondent of the World, regarding his recent interviews with the President. It was very evident around the Capitol to-day that the impeachment party was much stronger than was generally supposed. The Reconstruction Committee meet again on Monday."

☞The State of New York going for Grant makes certain his nomination. Her sixty-six delegates are instructed to cast a solid vote for him. We suppose opposition from the Chase, or extreme Radical wing of the Republican party, will now cease. Grant is already nominated.

☞The Republican State Convention of New York met at Syracuse on the 5th inst., elected Delegates to the National Convention and instructed them to vote for Grant for President, and Fenton of that State for Vice President.

The Last Attack on General Grant.

By this time, every man in the United States is satisfied Wendell Phillips, while possessing superior ability, is a vindictive and a jealous scold. He has lampooned, traduced, libelled and slandered every public character living during the last quarter of a century, and while his arguments have been strong for freedom, his marked inconsistency and errasciblo temper have rendered his attachment to a great cause as hard to manage for good as it was to combat the antagonism of many of its opponents and defeat its mischief. The latest display of indiscretion and bad manners, on the part of Mr. Phillips, consists of an outrageous attack on Gen. Grant, whom he charges with being intemperate—and actually holds the hero up to the country as a confirmed drunkard. If Grant was the first man slandered by Wendell Phillips, the American people would of course be shocked by the atrocity of this assault. We are all accustomed to such violence from Phillips—indeed when the orator ceases to be a scold and defamer of great men, he will lose his charm to those who are delighted by his wise saws, and sneeze whenever he takes snuff.

In this connection we have the authority of a soldier who knows Gen. Grant intimately, and who sees him almost daily, TO DECLARE THAT THERE IS NOT THE SHADOW OF A JUSTIFICATION FOR WHAT WENDELL PHILLIPS ALLEGES OR INSINUATES CONCERNING GEN. GRANT'S HABITS OR USE OF INTOXICATING LIQUOR AT THE PRESENT TIME. Mr. Phillips, either by design or through the defects of dotage, has become a tool in the hands of his country's bitterest enemies, to defame its ablest defender.

We clip the above from the Harrisburg State Guard. What it says of Wendell Phillips it might have said with equal truth of other prominent Republican politicians who are trying to prevent the nomination of General Grant. Grant's friends must be in earnest, if they wish to succeed in putting him in the Presidential chair. They must show his enemies a bold and determined front.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Feb. 6—Mr. Blaine from the Committee on appropriations, reported the army appropriation bill, amounting to $33,000,000. It contains a provision for the gradual reduction of the army, as follows:

Until the military force is reduced to twenty-five regiments of infantry, seven regiments of cavalry and five regiments of artillery, no new commission shall be issued in any regiment except to West Point cadets, as second lieutenants. The Secretary of War is directed to consolidate regiments as rapidly as the requirements of the public service and the reduction in the number of officers will permit, until the foregoing minimum is reached. The provision is not to be construed so as to deprive any officer in commission of whatever promotion may be open to him by the occurrence of vacancies among his superiors in rank. Such promotions, however, are to be always made so as to facilitate and not obstruct he consolidation of regiments.

Mr Blaine expressed briefly the items of the bill. The deficiency of last year he attributed to the Indian war, and there was no apprehension of a deficit the ensuing year. General Grant's estimate had been made with the greatest exactness, and with a degree of frigid economy wholly unknown to the army on its peace establishment preceding the war. By the official statement of the Secretary of the Treasury, the total expenses of the army for the four years of Mr. Buchanan's administration exceeded $86,000,000, making an average of nearly $22,000,000 a year in gold. The army at that time was composed of nineteen regiments in all, so that each regiment cost considerably over $1,000,000 in gold a year. The army at present was composed of sixty regiments, and the total appropriation required by Gen. Grant was but $33,000,000 a year in paper money, making a little more than $500,000 to each regiment.

In regard to the appropriation for the year, Mr. Blaine gave a brief recapitulation, as follows: For the navy, $18,000,000, compared with an average annual cost of $13,000,000 in gold under Mr. Buchanan's administration: executive, legislative and judicial expenses, $17,000,000; Post Office Department, 4,000,000; consular and diplomatic expenses, $1,250,000; Indian Department, $3,000,000; West Point Academy, $300,000 and miscellaneous expenses, $14,000,000—making an aggregate of $90,000,000, compared with $70,000,000 in gold for like expenses of the Government during the first year of Mr. Buchanan's administration.

To these ordinary expenses were to be added $30,000,000 for pensions, $25,000,000 for bounties, and $130,000 for interest on the public debt, making an aggregate expenditure of $275,000,000 for the year. This amount, Mr. Blaine stated would be greatly reduced, in future years, when bounties would not have to be paid, when the army would be reduced and the pension list curtailed, as it would rapidly be, from various causes.

Mr. Washburne who reported the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation bill, stated some of its principal points. He said that the amount of appropriations for the current fiscal year was $20,682 835. The estimates for the next fiscal year, as received from the Democratic departments of the government, amounted to $23,870 032. But the Committee on Appropriation had pruned the amount down to $17,217,000, a reduction of nearly $3,500,000 from the appropriations for the current year, and of nearly $6,500,000 from the amount estimated.

The sums appropriated in the bill, under the various headings, were as follows:—Legislative, $2,262 924;—Public Printing, $1,271,721; Library of Congress, $10 990; Court of Claims, $139,800; Executive, $50,922; State Department, $189,700; Treasury, $2,330,146; Internal Revenue, $6,000,000; Department of the Interior, $720,220; Surveyor General and Clerks, $71,500; War Department, $581,280; Navy Department, $157,893; Post Office Department, $376,680; Department of Agriculture, $156,793; United States Mint and Branches, $522,407; Independent Treasury, $290,200; Territorial governments, $259,500; Judiciary, $1,294,500. Total $17,217,480.

The Free Railroad Law.—The following are the provisions of the Rail Road Law which passed both Houses of the Pennsylvania Legislature, last week:

It provides that nine or more persons may form an association to build a railroad. They are required to sign articles setting forth the name of the company, termini of the road, years of intended operation, amount of capital stock (which shall not be less than ten thousand dollars for every mile of road) number of shares, places of residence of the President and at least six of the directors, &c. These articles must be acknowledged by three of the directors before a competent officer and filed in the office of the Secretary of State, and the articles shall constitute the charter of the company.

The articles the law provides shall not be filed and recorded in the office of the Secretary of State until at least ten thousand dollars of stock for every mile of railroad proposed to be made is subscribed thereto and ten per cent. paid thereon in good faith and in cash to the directors named in said articles of association, nor until there is endorsed thereon or annexed thereto an affidavit made by at least three of the directors named in said articles that the amount of stock required has been in good faith subscribed, and ten per centum paid in cash thereon, and that it is intended in good faith to construct or to maintain and operate the road mentioned in such articles of association, which affidavit shall be recorded with the articles of association.

The law gives the company the usual powers granted to corporations of having a common seal, sueing and being sued, buying and selling, etc.

The Globe.

HUNTINGDON, PA.

Wednesday morning, Feb. 12, 1868.

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

☞ Subscribers to The Globe will remember that they can discontinue their subscriptions at any time, and the amount paid on the same (after deducting for the time the paper may have been sent) will be refunded.

To Our Friends.

We propose to make considerable improvement in the appearance of the GLOBE early in the spring, if our friends will do their part by giving us the necessary encouragement. All arrearages can be paid up—and every good subscriber and friend can procure for the GLOBE an additional advance paying subscriber, which would give us support sufficient to enable us to give our patrons a much better paper than we can afford to give now. All our patrons would be gainers by merely using their influence to secure for us the necessary additional help. We cannot complain of the support we now receive from a generous public, but if it was more liberal we could give a better paper for the same money each subscriber now pays. Will our friends and patrons go to work immediately, that we may be able to make arrangements for the improvement at an early day.

Brief Items.

—Johnstown has now six wards.

—Some men can't see beyond their nose. Such must live and learn.

—We have had another snow.—Somebody says we are going to have forty this winter.

—To ascertain how many boys there are in the street: open a barrel of apples. They will save you the trouble of selling them.

—A gentleman in Johnstown has a book printed in London in 1632—236 years ago. Its title is "CVIII Lectvres vpon the Fovrth of Iohn."

—Dr. Valentine is now in Ebensburg. If we can judge from the number of cures he publishes he must be a curable physician.

—Altoona is to vote again for or "forneust" a city charter. "City" has been defeated twice, but its advocates are determined to "fight it out on that line."

—An interesting revival meeting has been in progress for some time in the colored church of this place, and has been well attended by the public, "without regard to race or color."

—Such a thing as lectures don't take well in Bedford. We can say "ditto" for Huntingdon. A monkey show takes better. So it is, but why we can not tell.

—The Grand Jury of Blair county last week presented the county jail in Hollidaysburg as a nuisance, and totally unfit for the purpose for which it was designed.

—The dwelling house of John Evans, near Riddlesburg, Bedford county, was destroyed by fire last week. Two children left in the house alone by their mother were burned to death.

—The roof of the residence of Henry Davis, in Shaver's Creek, took fire from the sparks from an adjoining blacksmith shop, recently, and was somewhat damaged. Insured.

—The Quarterly Convention of Good Templars for this District assembled at Williamsburg, Blair county, to-day, Tuesday. The Convention will remain in session two days.

—A household word. The best, the only reliable, the cheapest. Try it. Mrs. S. A. Allen's improved (new style) Hair Restorer or Dressing, (in one bottle.) Every Druggest sells it. Price One Dollar. Im.

—The young man who greases his hair is respectfully notified that when he makes calls, not to lean his pate against the wall. The young gentleman in question should understand that the wall paper suffers serious damage by such familiarity.

—The Juniata river is frozen over, and affords the skatorial queens and princes an opportunity to try their skill. As the blue stream only freezes at this place when the thermometer keeps some degrees below zero, our readers at a distance will understand that we have had pretty cold weather.

—A slight mistake: What everybody says must be true, and as everybody says the ground-hog saw his shadow, we will have to say so too; but in our last number we said he didn't. However, we would like to know who did see the ground-hog looking at his shadow.

—The Harrisburg Patriot & Union says that the Keystone hotel company have leased all the Penna. railroad hotels and eating houses between Pittsburg and Harrisburg, for which proposals have been solicited for the last two months, out-bidding all competitors.

—Next Friday, the 14th, is St. Valentine's day. About that time the mail bags of Uncle Sam will carry full freights, mixed cargoes, and life will be a burden to the post-office clerks.—"Valentine's day," says a Western editor, "is the annual bung-hole of youthful affection out of which it must ferment or bust." We say let it gush.

—The lot-holders of the Alexandria Cemetery intend holding a Fair and Festival in Alexandria on Wednesday and Thursday, this week. There are many attractions which should ensure a large attendance. Everybody is invited to contribute their mites, and we expect to see a delegation from Huntingdon.

—We learn that a "Sociable" has been formed in our town. These institutions are certainly a good thing in any town, and we think ours is as much in need of one as any. The young folks certainly desire to become acquainted with each other, and we hope all who desire to be acquainted by means of the "Sociable" will not be debarred the privilege.

☞ A large lot of B A. & R. G. Hemlock Sole Leather just received, and for sale at C. H. Miller & Sons' Leather Store. 2t†.

A Happy Place.

Dakota Territory must be a happy country about this time. From the Cheyenne Daily Star, of the 22d ult., we copy the following notice from the Vigilance Committee, which evidently means considerably more than it appears in print:

A WARNING.

No persons will be notified to leave this territory, except through a public newspaper of this place, and if said notified parties will not leave within twenty-four hours, the Committee will no longer be responsible for their safety.

George Brown, Nell Murphy, Cocke, (at New Idea) Jack Bristol, Thomas Campbell, Eugene Debonville, Frank St. Clair, Ali Cunningham, Slippery Bill, and Dave Mullens.

The above parties will leave this territory in twenty-four hours. By order of VIGILANCE COMMITTEE.

A note from Mr. Cooke, a tailor, who once worked with Mr. Snyder, of this place, accompanies the paper, in which he states that the Vigilance Committee hung three thieves on the preceding Monday morning. The day on which he wrote was election day. He states that three companies of regulars were patrolling the place to keep order, and that up to the hour at which he wrote, one man had been killed. We should certainly not select that locality for a permanent residence.—Altoona Tribune.

☞ Duggan, one of the Mill Creek railroad disaster victims, is now lying at Mifflin, under the care of Dr. Crawford, surgeon of the railroad company, and is receiving every necessary attention. Both of his hands were terribly burned, and it is probable that it will be found necessary to amputate the left hand. His head, face, neck and left leg were also burned, and his eyes injured, but it is believed that the sight will not be impaired. His condition has been made as comfortable as possible under the circumstances. Mr. Duggan's wife, who was the only person fatally injured, was killed outright before the car took fire, as her skull was found to be fractured. She had a small satchel on the seat beside her, which contained five hundred dollars in notes and one hundred dollars in gold, besides three tickets for passage to California. The satchel and contents were destroyed with the car on Wednesday.

A Great Billiard Run.

The Harrisburg Patriot & Union says:—The young champion billiard player, Mr. Wm. Poulton, of this city, recently made a run of eighteen hundred and eighty-seven points on a full sized carom table, getting the balls into a corner and running up to the above figures, when they "froze." If any of the New York "champions" can beat this run we should like to hear from them. In this connection we may say that Poulton's billiard saloon is one of the best in the country, commodious, well lighted and elegantly furnished.

William is well known to many of the billiard players in our town, to whom the above run will not appear much of a surprise, as his skill in using the cue was very well evinced. He is about eighteen years of age.

—St. Xavier's academy, at Latrobe, was totally destroyed by fire, on Saturday, Feb. 1. The academy was in charge of the Sisters of Mercy, and a large number of pupils were in attendance. Some little furniture and wearing apparel was saved, but the great bulk of the contents was burned along with the building. The loss is estimated at $100,000. The fire is supposed to have originated from a defective flue. The pupils were removed to Loretto, where the school will be continued without interruption.

Speer's Wine.

Is the pure, unadulterated juice of the Oporto Grape, now being cultivated in this country by Mr. Speer. It is valuable for family use, and for its tonic and invigorating properties. It gives tone to the stomach, and invigorates the system. In fashionable circles it has become the favorite wine. —Intelligencer.

Druggists are agents for this wine.

—The Clearfield Journal says: A man named Yonson, a shingle-maker, left Philipsburg on Friday, January 17th, partially intoxicated, with a horse and sleigh; and on Saturday, the 18th, he was found in the Allegheny mountains east of Philipsburg, frozen to death. The horse was also dead and stiff. This is another terrible warning to those who are in the habit of indulging in intoxicating drinks.

☞ The Tyrone Herald says: "Mr. Sample Anderson, of this place, has discovered what is said to be a rich gold mine, near this place. Our jewelers can pronounce it nothing else.—Nitric acid produces no visible effect on the metal. So pile in, ye gold worshippers, to the new Eldorado." This story is told pretty well, but we think it smells fishy.

☞ The statement of the Directors of the Poor published in another column shows that the Poor House drew from the county treasury during the past year nearly two thousand dollars less than was drawn from it the year previous. This speaks well for the Directors.

☞ The Harrisburg State Guard of Saturday says:—"The enlargement of the Pennsylvania canal between Columbia and Hollidaysburg, will afford employment for an immense number of men the coming season. It is understood the work will be commenced under the most favorable auspices."

MARRIED,

On Tuesday evening, Feb. 4th, at the residence of the bride's parents, by the Rev. J. W. Plannett, Mr. THOMAS S. JOHNSON, to Miss HETTIE HENRY, all of Huntingdon.

We cheerfully acknowledge our thanks to our young friends who have bid adieu to "single blessedness" for the favor sent us, and cordially extend our congratulations and best wishes that they may together enjoy a long life of unalloyed happiness and prosperity, and may you live together where happiness, love and glory have no end.

Letter from Philadelphia.

DEAR GLOBE:—Certainly I deserve the name of your "Occasional" correspondent, but I don't flatter myself my letters will be so eagerly perused as his who does the political "Press" in daily column of prophecy. I shall treat of nothings and clothe them in a wordy raiment in keeping with their nothingness.

Know then that despite the pinching times our staid Quaker City manages to wear a quiet smile of enjoyment, and, like many of her citizens, "keeps up appearances." Theatres are well filled and oftener crowded. You are aware doubtless that we all do Dickens—'tis decidedly fashionable. "New Editions of Dickens" stare at you from every book store; people affect Dickens; look with seeming interest on crossing sweeps; discover little heroes with sick sisters and decrepid mothers, where before they only saw dirty offensive children whose presence contaminated; drawling exquisites yawn through the principal scenes of the coming reading; sentimental misses pronounce what before was so irksome now "so vividly descriptive," smile condescendingly at Master Humphrey's clock and declare they almost hear its ticking.—One of our city journals informs its readers that in compliment to a visit paid them by the great word-painter they will call their new press the "Dickens press"—it was such a childs-like announcement—a startling "Ledger" do main.

What puppets we republicans can be!—Fashion dictates our dress, our literary diet, our conversation. We are nothing more than animated fashion plates. The fickle dame occasionally forces some slight blessing upon us, for instance: this skating mania. We all skate now; come and see us. Every section of the city boasts its park; "Skatorial Queens" inform you from every car side of their presence at this or that park. And now ye lovers of the graceful, think of it. I see "the one-legged champion skater of the world" is among us; my curiosity to see him on ice is terrible; but I do confess it, a graceful girl on skates is something to fire man's heart and fancy. Just come with me. Be careful how you step, or you may discover a tendency to sit down with suddenness—and arise with caution. Do you notice that group? Well, they surround one of our "big things on ice." See what a perfect master of the situation he is—always gathers around him an admiring crowd—and 'tis only occasionally his modesty or indifference will permit us to see how much he can do with impunity that would cause us fractures, sprains, contusions, and a firm resolve never to tempt fate again. Quick! Look here! Ain't she lovely? Do you notice her magnificent sweep? Yo gods! here he comes; I knew he would. Poor fellow! how he labors to keep up with her, but only succeeds in keeping after her. I don't know who they are, only that they are here every good day. Poor fellow! I pity him! How that girl glories in her perfect mastery. See him on his knees unbuckling her skate; (I'd have done it with pleasure;) this is her hour for leaving "ye crystal field." To-morrow at ten they will certainly reappear (weather permitting.) They appear to know no one; as I don't know them, I'm egotistic enough to imagine they are new bubbles on our city tide. Now let us slip to other topics.

Our Sunday evening concerts proved a failure. Our staid good people wont patronize such ungodly undertakings. They will not listen on such occasions to grand inspiring sacred music with voices raised in heavenly praise, and so they have gone by default, and more's the pity.

You have not monopolized the snow this winter. The sleighing on such of our streets as are not cut up by our city tracks is glorious, and out of the city all that could be desired. The charges of our livery men are so very moderate—only $5 an hour—I can't afford to go more than once a day, and then a cozy supper at the Falls with a sweet-face opposite you, and an appetite to match—why that more than recompenses one for all this expenditure. I've sold my railroad stock to pay my bills and am yet the master of a snug fortune, ($1,50, I believe,) but I expect some of my rich aunts and uncles will soon leave for a "beautiful land on high," and then Richard will be himself (or a wealthier man.) Do you know my mouth waters when I see these Princes (before the foot-lights) giving their trusty followers gold in huge bags; how prodigal they are; but the poor devil who enacts the spendthrift prince for our amusement could not, after a careful search, find a 5 cent piece that's not mortgaged. So we go. We are all enacting some false part on this stage of life, and that and that only makes life endurable. Masks are necessary, and must be worn; tear them off and then dies confidence.

The political cauldron commences bubbling, and our political Samsons are girding for the fight. Republicans shout Grant, Conservatives scream Johnson, Democrats at a loss whether to yell for Hancock or Hoffman, or ME. Plenty of fun ahead; flurry, noise, stuff, buncombe—all to save this poor dying thing we read of as boys, "the Union;" and we are all actuated by that marketable commodity called "patriotism"—component parts (as they strike me, in a city, and so analyzed) precinct meeting, ward meeting, nomination; "Brown the incorruptible;" "the people's friend," cuts of an uplifted arm great in muscle, under it "Workingman's candidate Brown." Brown gives a political tool stumps to drink to the "people's candidate;" tool calls on all to drink to Brown. "Poor man's friend;" poor man goes for Brown; Brown goes for the poor man (his pocket.) Brown's elected, makes a speech, and says, "my hard-fisted constituents demand this bill;" comes home and forgets he has ever been the "poor man's friend," and Jones martyrizes himself for "principle" and our "debt-ridden country." Such, O, Globe, is what I see under the head of "our city politics," and methinks 'tis a fair sample of this unclean thing, "love of country," as looked at through political glasses, with which sage conclusion permit me to remain, &c. N. S.

—John Trimble, while working about the fly-wheel of a steam engine at Erb's mill, in Centre county, had his pantaloons caught by the strap which passes over it, and was drawn along until both feet became fastened, when he was whirled round, each time striking his head against the posts and floor until it became a mass of clotted blood, bruised flesh, and broken bones. The mill and men working near were covered with blood and brains.

AN IMPROVEMENT IN LIGHT!

We take pleasure in putting before the public a LAMP for burning fat, lard or tallow, which is superior to any of the kind ever introduced. It differs from all others, as it does not require the fat to be melted before lighting. It heats the fat by a copper pipe, which conducts the heat under the fat and melts it immediately.

Thousands of the lamps have been sold and no complaints have been made. All lamps warranted to give general satisfaction, or the money refunded.

A rare opportunity is offered to any person or persons that may wish to engage a the business. Huntingdon and Mifflin counties will be sold in townships at reasonable terms to suit purchasers. A sample lamp will be forwarded to any person on receipt of retail price, $1,50, and forwarded at my expense.

Will either sell territory or pay agents by the day or piece. Agents are making from $7 to $15 per day, for they sell very fast. They are what every person needs. All letters will receive prompt attention.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

TO THE LADIES.—Do you really intend to cease wearing the beautiful styles now so prevalent, or dress less elegantly, because the rebel Jeff. Davis, was captured in Fashionable Female attire? One moment's calm reflection will surely serve to change your rash resolve. The angels had too much good sense to lay aside their pure chaste robes of white, because they had for a time served to hide the deformities of that Prince of Rebels, the Devil. Can you err in following the example of Angels? Then having made up your minds that you will continue to dress tastefully regardless of rebels acts, do not forget to call at the store of the subscribers, who will be happy at all times to furnish you with such articles of dress as you may desire. Urge your faith, ers, husbands, brothers, neighbors and children to visit the same store. They can here be suited in good articles of Boots, Shoes, Clothing Material, Hats, Caps, Queensware and a general assortment of Groceries, on as reasonable terms as at any House in town. ENERGETIC MEN AND LADIES WANTED to Canvass for the

ORIGIN AND HISTORY OF THE BOOKS OF THE BIBLE.

BY PROF. CALVIN E. STOWE, D. D.

Showing what the Bible is not; what it is, and how to use it; tracing the history of each book up to its origin with the inspired authors, and completely answering all Infidel cavils and objections to the Scriptures. It is an ordinary library of Biblical History in a single volume, brief, clear, accurate, conclusive and highly interesting. A master-piece of consumed sense. It is needed in every family where the Bible is read, as well as by every Sabbath School teacher, student and clergyman, and being the only book on the subject ever published or sold in this country, agents can easily see the advantage of canvassing for this work. Send for circulars containing notices and indorsements from leading ministers of all denominations. Address

ZIEGLER, McCURDY & CO.,
no6-1m No. 614 Arch street, Philadelphia.

STOVES, GRATES, RANGES, &C.

ANY of the above articles can be had by addressing the subscriber. Stores of all kinds and sizes to suit the wants of all.

We call the attention of the public to the

a stove beyond competition. It is a pretty pattern, good baker, with large oven, and suitable for either coal or wood. Stoves furnished at foundry prices. Any person wishing to purchase a stove without cooking utensils can do so, and the prices of all the articles will be deducted. All stoves warranted. Samples can be seen at Mr. Hughe's store, Mill Creek, or at the residence of the subscriber.

All parlor stoves furnished at low prices. Stoves delivered at any railroad station.

A good brother in one of the rural districts thought he had a call to preach. Being an indifferent reader, he got a friend to read the Scripture. The chapter on one occasion was 22d Genesis, which chapter contains this verse:—"These eight did Milcah bear to Nahor, Abraham's brother." On this the preacher held forth as follows: "Brethren and sisters, let us consider our blessings. Morning and evening our wives and daughters milk our cows and thus supply our wants. But in the days of good old Abraham, as you have just heard, it took eight to "milk a bear," and they did not get much at that."

PAINTS FOR FARMERS AND OTHERS.—The Grafton Mineral Paint Co. are now manufacturing the Best, Cheapest and most Durable Paint in use: two coats well put on, mixed with pure Linseed Oil, will last 10 or 15 years; it is of a light brown or beautiful chocolate color, and can be changed to green, lead, stone, drab, olive, or cream, to suit the taste of the consumer. It is valuable for houses, barns, fences, carriage and car makers, pails and wooden-ware, agricultural implements, canal boats, vessels and ships' bottoms, canvas, metal and shingle roofs, (it being fire and water proof), floor oil cloths, (one manufacturer having used 5000 bbls. the past year,) and as a paint for any purpose is unsurpassed for body, durability, elasticity, and adhesiveness. Price $6 per bbl. of 300 lbs, which will supply a farmer for years to come. Warranted in all cases as above. Send for a circular which gives full particulars.—None genuine unless branded in a trade mark Grafton Mineral Paint. Address DANIEL BIDWELL,

No more Bald Heads! No more Gray Locks!

DR. LEON'S

ELECTRIC HAIR RENEWER,

Is pronounced by all who have used it the very best preparation for the Hair. It is a positive cure for Baldness, eradicates Dandruff and Humors, stops the hair from falling out, and speedily restores Gray Locks to their original hue and luxuriance.

It operates on the secretions and fills the glands with new life and coloring matter. Thin, dead, faded or gray hair will always be brought back by a few applications, to its youthful abundance, vitality and color.

It makes the hair soft, glossy, fragrant, pleasant to the touch and easy to arrange. Dry, wiry and intractable locks become moist, pliant and disposed to remain in any desired position. As a Hair Dressing it has no equal.—The sales are enormous and it is a universal favorite with old and young of both sexes.

Sold by Druggists throughout the United States. Address all orders to

THE CHEAPEST AND BEST ARTICLE OUT.

A PERFECT TIME-PIECE FOR ONE DOLLAR.

Let every Housekeeper, Farmer, Mechanic, and Traveller buy our

SOLAR WATCH,

or Perpetual Portable Sun-Dial.

Warranted to keep True Time for every Day of the Year

This valuable instrument, which is warranted by us to give the true time of day throughout the year, is constructed on strictly scientific principles, being based on astronomical tables and calculations, and affording the truest measure of time which human ingenuity and skill can devise, exceeding in accuracy and reliability the most perfect chronometers, whilst the low price at which we offer it to the public places it within the reach of all. Its portability makes it convenient for travelers, and to every farmer or householder it must prove invaluable to regulate into their clocks and watches by the most infallible test recognized by science.

The mode of using the "Solar Watch" is the simplest that can be devised. After screwing the Style or Gnomon in its place in the moveable brass head and setting it directly over the straight line corresponding to the date, or that nearest to it on the cylinder, the instrument is placed upright in the sunshine in such a position as will throw the shadow of the Style directly upon the line under it. After placing the plumb-line, by means of its brass attachment, at a right angle with and to the left of the Style, in order to set the cylinder perfectly level, the point where the extremity of the shadow falls, and its distance from any of the wavy or cross lines exhibiting the morning and corresponding afternoon hours, will indicate the true time of day.

The whole apparatus, consisting of a Cylinder and Diagram, moveable brass Head, Style, Plumb line, and Brass attachment for the same, neatly put up in compact boxes, is sold by us at the incredibly low price of ONE DOLLAR.

☞ Cures Deafness, Asthma, Piles,
☞ Bronchitis Affections, Dyspepsia,
☞ Inflammation of the Kidneys, Erysipelas,
☞ Liver Complaint and Palpitation of the Heart.

Keep it in your Families—Sickness comes when least expected.

I propose to check, and effectually dissipate more ache and pain, and to accomplish more perfect equilibrium of all the circulating fluids in the human system, than can be effected by any other, or all other methods of medical aid in the same space of time.

THIS POPULAR REMEDY is fast coming into use, for the fact that I cure, free of charge, all these complaints whenever there is an opportunity to do so. As soon as it is applied it almost miraculously kills the pain. I do not ask you to buy before you are certain of its efficacy. If you have an ache or pain, it is warranted to do all it purports on the label.

I do not propose to cure every disease—only a class named by my directions. My liniment operates on chemical and electric principles, and is, therefore, applicable, to the cure or natural restorative of all organic derangement arising from an improper circulation of the nerve vital fluids.

Prof. J. H. McEntyre's INDIAN COMPOUND acts directly on the absorbents, reducing glandular and other swellings in incredible short time, without any possible danger from its use under any possible circumstances.

This is an internal and external medicine—composed of roots, herbs and barks, such as our forefathers used.—There is a bountiful supply on earth to cure all complaints if we only know what they were.

This has been a great study with the Medical Faculty for many years, to find out the kinds best adapted to the above complaints—how to put them together, and what proportions to use.
